CAPS AND CAPES 1986
Charity Hospital School of Nursing
Vol. XLVIII
New Orleans, Louisiana

SPRING

CAPPING TIME!

For the Juniors and Seniors, Capping Ceremony is one of the highlights of the year. It signifies that they have achieved a higher rank in student status through much hard work. The satisfaction is not only in wearing a new cap, but in wearing a new Charity cap.

Above: Anne Trapani proudly adds her name to the SAC book.

HO DOWN

SGA Sponsored a Ho Down Barbeque to welcome students to a new semester. The date was postponed due to hurricane Elena, and the Welcome Back party was on Friday, September 13, 1985. There were hamburgers, corn on the cob, Mr. Foley's baked beans and smoked sausage.

Doretta Strickling and Deborah Lowe show their guest how to enjoy an SGA party.

Below: Denise Foley, Katherine Kouloubis, Cathy Allen and Christina Reyes stick together through thick and thin.

Marsha Boutwell, Carolyn Davenport and Geri Navarre had a Good Ole Time on the Western Front.

A TIME OF TRIALS

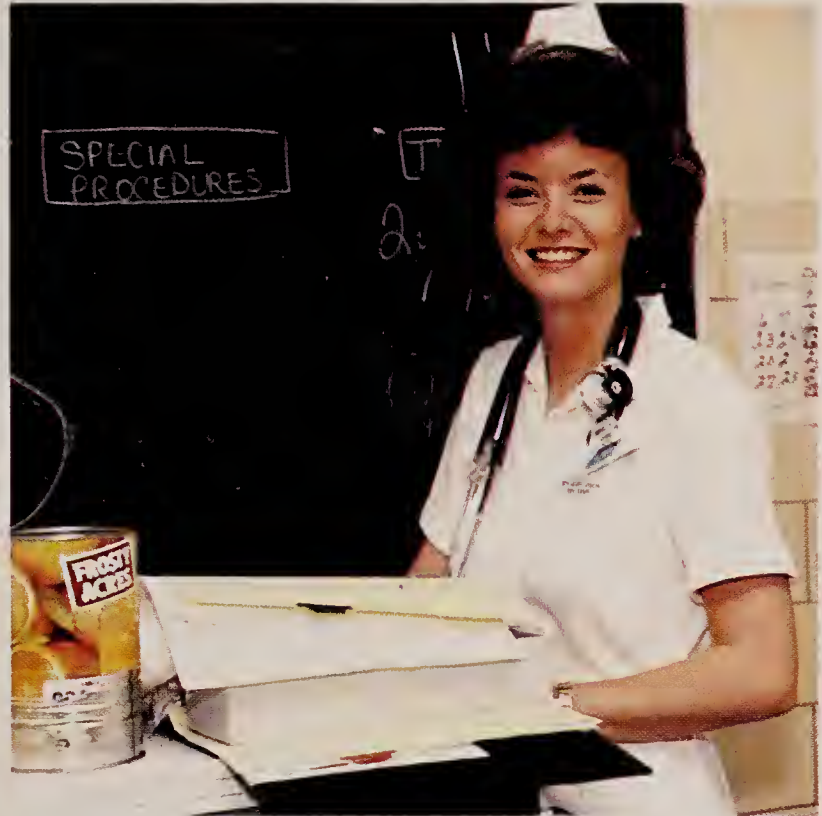

Adele Poche got disgusted and threw everything in the garbage can.

Looks like this semester is taking its toll on Cathy Lorenzo.

Ella Corder, Prissy Graffeo and Trina Herleikson filled and placed sandbags to stop the flood from Hurricane Juan.

A TIME FOR WORK

Top left: Janet Falcon says to Mrs. Cay Perry: "Was my charting that bad?"

STUDENT NURSES' DAY

The last week of October is Student Nurse Week, and the Faculty selects a day to show appreciation to their students. On this day each instructor has coffee and doughnuts with her group before clinical. Cindy Pagragan, representing Charity Hospital, brings carnations for each student, to show the hospital staff appreciates student nurses also.

HALLOWEEN

For the children on the Pediatric Ward, who could not spend Halloween trick or treating at home, Angie LeBlanc, Paul Iannazzo and the other students in Peds brought the Halloween spirit to them by dressing up in costumes for clinical that day.

Middle left: Voncile Lyons, Richelle Hammond and Trilby Barnes dressed up for BSO's Halloween party that night.

A TIME FOR FUN

The Winter Formal was held at the Clarion Hotel on Saturday, November 9. The band was HEAT. Seniors from both classes took group pictures for the yearbook.

The Charity Christmas party is a tradition and part of the tradition is for Ms. Cooper to put the first ornament on the tree. Then the children finish the decorating. It is also becoming a tradition to show the cake to those who may have missed it.

TIME OUT

No matter how conscientious one is, or how hard one works, everyone needs a time-out, a change of pace, a break in the routine. Whether it's a phone call, a party, a break in the third floor lounge or just plain daydreaming, to most people it's a vital part of their routine.

MEDICAL-SURGICAL NURSING II

Medical-Surgical Nursing II focuses on nursing as an interpersonal process involving the patient, the nurse, the family and health team members. Emphasis is placed upon the use of the nursing process in caring for the critically ill person and those persons who are recovering from serious illness. The concept of team leading and team nursing is employed.

COMMUNITY-PSYCHIATRIC NURSING

Psychiatric Nursing focuses on the establishment of therapeutic nurse-patient relationships with individuals and small groups of patients. Emphasis is placed on refining communication and understanding behavior, both normal and disturbed. Community nursing focuses on the role of the nurse in health care systems other than inpatient hospital settings. History and Trends in Nursing helps the student appreciate how events in nursing history influence nursing trends today. Ethical issues, legal aspects, continuing education and career opportunities are discussed.

MATERNAL-CHILD NURSING

The units of instruction in Maternal nursing include the periods and processes of pregnancy, childbirth and postpartum care, the period of the newborn and the high risk baby. The units of instruction in Pediatrics include general considerations in the care of the hospitalized child, illnesses related to specific age groups and health problems that span the child's life cycle.

MEDICAL-SURGICAL NURSING I

Specific areas addressed in Medical-Surgical Nursing include the nursing care of patients with problems involving the musculoskeletal, gastrointestinal, endocrine, gynecological, cardiorespiratory systems and oncology patients. Much emphasis is placed on assessment of body systems.

INTRODUCTION TO NURSING

Introduction to Nursing is designed to orient new students to the nursing process and to provide learning experiences through which the student develops nursing knowledge, skills and attitudes necessary to care for a non-critically ill patient.

INTRODUCTION TO MEDICAL-SURGICAL NURSING

Introduction to Medical-Surgical Nursing provides additional experiences which enable students to become aware of the nurse's role in regard to independent and interdependent nursing interventions.

CELEBRATING 250 YEARS...

CELEBRATING

1986 marks the 250th anniversary of Charity Hospital. During this span of years, Charity has continuously struggled to provide medical attention and caring to those who would not otherwise receive the care they desperately need. CHSN nursing students have been an integral part of the hospital's noble mission.

The celebration starts with a Rededication Ceremony in June, followed by an Historical Exhibit in the New Orleans Public Library in July, a 5K run and Birthday Party-Jazz Fest in October, a Thanksgiving food basket drive in November, and a Hospital Christmas party in December.

Letter From The Editor

I chose to save this page for myself. While it has nothing to do with our theme, I still feel it is a necessary part of this yearbook. I wish to use it to extend a very special "thanks" to all of the wonderful people who helped me produce this book for you.

My staff; Jeanne, Diane, Mary Ellen and Nicole; you did beautiful work! Rick Crouse and Reggie Bowman, who were always at our service and came through for us with all of the photographs in this book. We couldn't have gotten better help. Mary Strasser, who helped us design layouts, and who will act as new yearbook advisor for 1987. Best of luck to you, Mary! I would also like to at this time wish much luck to our new 1987 editor, Lisa Strain.

Laura Pierce, who typed many typesheets for us and was very valuable in helping us identify the people in photos. You really helped us out! John Liles, our Taylor Yearbook Company representative. Many thanks to you, John, you gave us the guidance we needed and helped us to put together a really great yearbook! It was my privilege to work with you, John, and my pleasure!

Lastly, I would like to extend my sincere gratitude to Joanne Redmann, who has given 200% towards the production of the yearbook, and has also given much encouragement and support to me and the entire staff when we really needed it most. Hats off to you, Mrs. Redmann, you've made a difficult job much easier, with all of your help, dedication and friendship! This job truly could not be accomplished without you!
